Set 22 - Feelings (Sleepy)

No	word/phrase	meaning
1	Sleepy	I opened my eyes and blinked. My eyes were dry and caked. My mouth felt as dry as cotton. His eyelids were closing involuntarily His shirt collar stank of saliva from drooling in the sleep My eyelids felt puffy and slow to blink My shoulders sank and my feet slapped the ground a little harder I woke up. The aching weight of consciousness flooded my muscles, and I groaned. Waking up hurt. "I couldn't... um," I said, the lag in my brain making my words clumsy. I paused, collecting myself. My mouth tasted bitter, filmy. I rubbed my bleary eyes and stared at the alarm clock My eyes were crusty from my sleep. I could barely open them

Set 23 - People (Villains / Bullies)

No	word/phrase	meaning
1	Bully	"Marco! Hey—Marco!" she called, waving the bat menacingly. I saw the anger in his dark eyes. He uttered a fierce growl. "Get used to it, Marco," he said through clenched teeth. Gwynnie had a fierce look on her face. She swung the bat over her head again. A cruel smile spread slowly over Keith's face. His dark eyes flashed. They both laughed loudly, tossing back their heads. And then, I heard a dry, whispered voice. A frightening whisper, so close, so close to my ear She was hurrying across the room to get me, an evil gleam in her eyes!

Set 24 - People (Villains)

No	word/phrase	meaning
1	Villains	His hair was slicked back and he had a sinister smile plastered across his pointy face. A prominent forehead scar stood out from the rest of his features. It was a wicked black scar that ran from her brow down over her left eyelid There was a long jagged scar that ran across his face; what teeth he had were yellow and rotten; his eyes popped, and he drooled most of the time." His teeth were jagged and his sly smile resembled a Jack-O-Lantern His dressing sense was immaculate and it tried to give off a harmless aura. But his eyes spelled something menacing, something I could not explain. Whatever it was, it sent a shiver down my spine Every visible inch of his body was covered with tattoos.
