Johnny: Do we have everything we need for Thanksgiving?

Shelley: I hope so! I went grocery shopping yesterday. I got all of the¹ to make stuffing, apple and pumpkin pie, mashed potatoes and gravy, squash, green bean casserole and a huge turkey.

Johnny: Wow, sounds great. What time will everyone²?

Shelley: I told your parents and sister to come around³ My family will be over shortly after that. The kids can watch movies in the office while you, your dad, and brother-in-law watch football.

Johnny: Did you get some stuff to⁴? And beer. Did you get beer? You know how my Dad LOVES his beer! Are you making enough vegetarian options for my sister? You know she will⁵ if she has nothing to eat.

Shelley: Yes, yes, and yes! We have lots of cheese and crackers, chips and dip, veggies, and humus. Lots and lots of everything! We have beer, juice, wine, tea, coffee... we have EVERYTHING! And I am making special vegetarian dishes just for your sister.

Johnny: Thank you Shelley. You are such an amazing cook and host. I know this is a stressful day for you. I really⁶ it so much. Thank you, thank you, thank you!

Shelley: Just don't drink too much. And help me clean. And make sure you⁷ the kids. They always break something. And don't forget to wish my parents a happy anniversary. And don't let my dad talk you into betting on the game. And don't. . .

Johnny: Okay, okay, okay. I remember all of the things that you were angry at me for last year. I will be on my⁸!
