

Are you hungry?

1. Look at the situation and answer the questions in Spanish.

a) What does "hungry" mean? _____

b) What does "Thirsty" mean? _____

2. Select the INCORRECT sentence.

I'm hungry

- a. Can I have a salad, please?
- b. Can I have a glass of juice, please?
- c. Can I have a banana, please?

I'm thirsty

- a. Can I have a cup of tea, please?
- b. Can I have a glass of water, please?
- c. Can I have a sandwich, please?

3. Complete the conversations.

- a) I'm hungry. Can I have a _____, please? – Of course!
- b) I'm Thirsty. Can I have _____, please? – Here you are.
- c) _____. Can I have juice, _____? – Here you are.
- d) _____, Can I have fruits, please? – _____
- e) I'm hungry. _____ pizza, _____? – Of course!

4. Listen to the conversation and number the dialogue in order.

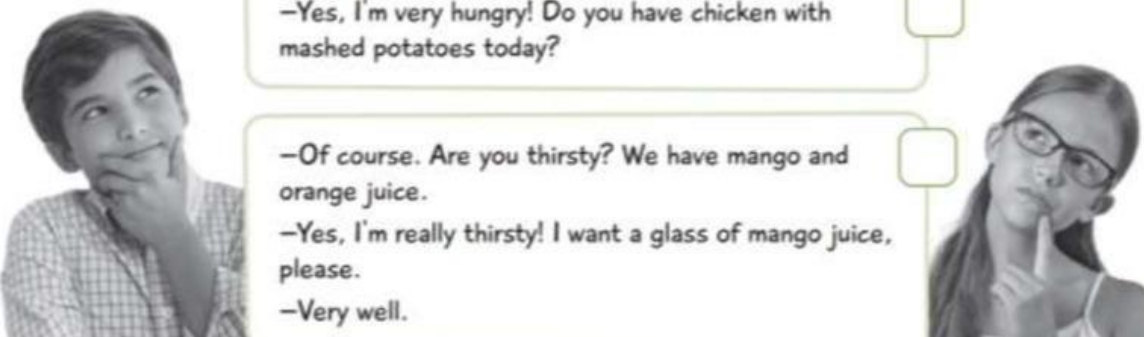

Fifteen minutes later...

–Here you are. Your artichoke and cheese pizza, and your mango juice.
–Thank you!
–Enjoy.

–No, I'm sorry. But there is pizza. Do you like pizza?
–Yes, I do. Can I have an artichoke and cheese pizza, please?

–Hello! Are you ready to order?
–Yes, I'm very hungry! Do you have chicken with mashed potatoes today?

–Of course. Are you thirsty? We have mango and orange juice.
–Yes, I'm really thirsty! I want a glass of mango juice, please.
–Very well.

A boy and a girl are shown in a thinking pose. The boy is on the left, resting his chin on his hand. The girl is on the right, also resting her chin on her hand and wearing glasses.