"The Islander"

[Composer: Marco Hietala]

An old man by a seashore at the end of day
Gazes the horizon with sea winds in his face
Tempest-tossed island, seasons all the same
Anchorage unpainted and a ship without a name

Sea without a shore for the banished one unheard
He lightens the beacon, light at the end of world
Showing the way, lighting hope in their hearts
The ones on their homeward way

Horizon's crying the tears he left behind

[Chorus]

This is for long-forgotten light at the end of world
Horizon's crying the tears he left behind long ago

The albatross is flying, making him daydream
The time he's been longing for the world's unseen

Princess in the tower, children in the fields
Life gave him it all: an island of the universe

Now his love's a memory, a ghost in the fog

He sets the sail to the last time saying farewell to the world

Anchor to the water, seabed far below / on a go

Grass still in his feet and a smile beneath his brow

[Chorus]

This is for long-forgotten light at the end of world

Horizon's crying the tears he left behind long ago

The albatross is flying, making him daydream

The time he's been longing for the world's unseen

Princess in the tower, children in the fields

Life gave him it all: an island of the universe

Now his love's a memory, a ghost in the fog

He sets the sail to the last time saying farewell to the world

Grass still in his feet and a smile beneath his brow
