II. Compound adjectives (Tính từ ghép)

- Tính từ ghép trong tiếng Anh (compound adjectives) là một tính từ hình thành bằng cách nối hai hoặc nhiều từ bổ sung ý nghĩa cho cùng một danh từ với nhau. Các từ được kết nối bằng một hoặc nhiều dấu gạch nối.

Ex: short-handed staff, blue-collar workers, one-of-a-kind website, etc.

- Khi một tính từ ghép bắt đầu bằng một trạng từ, thông thường ta sẽ không cần dùng dấu gạch nối.

Ex: overly affectionate person, warmly received welcome, etc.

- Với các tính từ ghép, dấu gạch nối là cần thiết để thông báo rằng hai (hoặc nhiều) từ đang hoạt động cùng nhau như một tính từ ghép đơn lẻ.

Ex: She drove a yellowed-striped car. (Ô tô của cô ấy được trang trí bằng hoa văn kẻ sọc màu vàng.)
She drove a yellow, striped car. (Ô tô của cô ấy màu vàng và được trang trí bằng hoa văn kẻ sọc màu khác.)

Part 2

You are going to read a magazine article about a cruise ship. Seven sentences have been removed from the article. Choose from the sentences A–H the one which fits each gap (9–15). There is one extra sentence which you do not need to use.

Mark your answers on the separate answer sheet.

The Oriana turnaround

When the cruise ship Oriana comes into port, it has just 12 hours to get everything ready for the 1,800 passengers on its next cruise. Chris Mersea joined the team for the day.

It's 6.00 a.m., still dark, and above the rooftops of the port city of Southampton a large orange funnel suddenly appears. It's attached to the 69,000-tonne cruise ship Oriana, the pride of P&O Cruise Lines. Oriana has been home, for the past eleven days, to some 1,800 passengers. It will soon be home to 1,800 different passengers yet to arrive in Southampton, but who in twelve hours' time will be setting sail for the Atlantic islands of Madeira and Tenerife.

In most small hotels the staff complain if they have to change more than ten bedrooms in one day. On Oriana, there are 900 cabins to be cleaned in just a few hours. [9] [ ]

On board Oriana, however, working practices are shaped not by the attitude of individual members of the staff, but by time, tide and a rigid cruise schedule. [10] [ ]

The first aim of the day is to have the last passengers off the ship and away by 10.30 a.m. [11] [ ] Even so, passengers manage to drive off home having forgotten sunglasses, souvenirs and even pearl earrings. The staff often find jewellery that has fallen down the backs of beds and chairs, and at least one passenger always manages to arrive home without his house keys – by which time the ship could already be halfway back across the Atlantic.

While Oriana's armies of cabin stewards are changing sheets and looking for lost property, an enormous amount of activity is also taking place elsewhere on the ship. [12] [ ] Everything from 10 tonnes of fish, to 108 new sun chairs, to a vanload of scenery for the ship's Rio Dance Spectacular has to be carefully checked in.

The biggest problems of the day are a set of waiters' uniforms that have disappeared and several thousand boiled sweets that don't seem to have turned up. [13] [ ]

While all this is going on, there is also a large number of people coming and going. Turnaround day, according to the captain, starts off with an end-of-term feeling because a lot of the crew are saying goodbye, but then others are arriving to take their places. [14] [ ] These include a replacement head waiter, a new swimming-pool attendant and a new piano act called the Bibby Sisters, who will contribute to the ship's entertainment programme during the cruise.

For the moment, though, the priority is to meet and greet the new passengers, who start coming on board as early as 1.30 p.m. [15] [ ] Five hours later, back on dry land, the band will be playing their own version of Sailing, as Oriana heads out towards the open sea. It's a thrilling moment for the 1,800 men, women and children on board, who can look forward to eleven days of fun and relaxation.

A It's a leisurely process – nobody is made to feel they have to rush their goodbyes or their packing.

B Lorries full of supplies for the ship's stores are waiting to be unloaded.

C Hopefully, they haven't been missed amongst the loads of cornflakes and crisps that keep on coming, steered through the narrow corridors by dock workers in orange overalls.

D As for having to stock up on food for a fortnight ahead, no hotel chef would hear of it.

E These are entertained in the Tiffany Lounge area by a small group of musicians, playing pieces vaguely connected with the sea.

F Every so often, however, a loud crash announces the departure of another empty metal container.

G And today is no exception – in all, some 91 people are taking up or leaving their posts.

H It would take really extreme weather conditions to stop the ship departing and returning at the stated times, wherever it's sailing.

Our Great Ocean Road adventure

by Donna Waverley

My family and I recently went to Australia, to see my grandparents. But before we visited them, we went sightseeing along the Great Ocean Road, on the Australian coast.

Dad had intended to drive, but even though he was used to driving miles without getting exhausted, he then read on the website that the road wouldn't be an easy drive, with a number of sharp bends. Anyway, we thought he deserved to enjoy the fantastic views too, which he couldn't do as our driver. So instead, we persuaded him to book discount bus tickets and off we went.

Our first stop was where wild kangaroos lived – and Dad and I were taking a walk when a big one appeared! For a moment, it seemed to consider coming towards us, which made me slightly nervous – but then it went off along the road, stopping to check if we were following. Although it was with us a while, I was so excited I didn't even manage to pull out my camera. Then it looked back once more, and went off into the bushes.

That wasn't the only wildlife we saw. I thought it unlikely we'd see Australia's famous koala bears during our short visit, as I'd heard they were rare – but we weren't disappointed at our next stop. In fact, we discovered there were roughly six million in that area! Sadly, some gum trees they were in had very few leaves left, which people told us was because of the koalas, although I'd read that lack of water is actually the problem. Still, I guess they looked cute, and were easy to find – we just followed the tourists looking up into the trees!

Dad had booked a campsite for the night, with ready-made tents – for an adventure! I wasn't sure about that, but they were actually luxury tents, within walking distance of some famous rocks and other places we hoped to visit. However, Dad also said the sounds of wild creatures would help us sleep. That sounded worrying – until the 'wild creatures' turned out to be frogs! So I was embarrassed by my fears – and kept awake by the frogs! But we had fun making meals together – we'd brought food, as we knew there'd be nowhere to eat.

In fact, this whole trip was fantastic!
