

Listen to the recording and fill in the missing information.

Fill in the blanks with the words from the chart

Gender	Pharynx	Impaired thinking
The presence of other drugs or medications	Blood stream	Age
Reduced coordination	Pancreas	Depression
Mouth	Slow reflexes	Poor judgment
Impaired memory	Decreased debility to control motor functions	Body composition
Alcohol blood level	Hepatitis
Liver	Larynx	Esophagus
General health	Breast	Weight

When alcohol is consumed approximately _____ percent is rapidly absorbed into the _____.

The amount of alcohol in a person's blood stream is referred to as _____.

Fatty liver can lead to liver inflammation known as _____.

How fast a person's blood alcohol level rises, varies depending on a number of things including:

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

More frequent alcohol consumption leads to negative behaviors such as

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Alcohol consumption increases the risk of many cancers such as

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Match the conditional sentences.

1. When a person consumes more alcohol than their body can efficiently metabolize,
2. When people begin consuming alcohol,
3. When alcohol is continuously consumed over a period of time,

It begins to affect the body in many ways.

they may feel relaxation, self-confidence, happiness and sociability the amount of alcohol in their blood stream becomes elevated.