

Complete the sentences with the correct countries and nationalities.

Mary: Hello, my name is Mary. Nice to meet you. What's your name?

Sarah: Hi, I am Sarah. Nice to meet you, too. I am German. I live in _____.

Mary: Oh, that's great. I would love to visit there one day. I live in _____ where feta cheese is being made.

Sarah: So, you are _____. I love feta cheese and your country's islands.

Mary: Yes, I am. How long will your school trip here last?

Sarah: Four days. How about yours?

Mary: We are here for five days and I am so excited. Have you visited the Eifel Tower yet?

Sarah: Not yet. We will visit tomorrow. After we eat croissants for breakfast. I think it's one of the most beautiful landmarks of _____.

Mary: I totally agree. But I hate that _____ people don't like to speak English. Do you ever want to visit any other landmarks or countries?

Sarah: I would love to visit the Big Ben and the British Museum in the future.

Mary: Yes, me too. I really like _____, even though they say that _____ people are a bit cold.

Sarah: Yes, but maybe it is just a stereotype. Where else would you like to go?

Mary: I would love to eat some churros with chocolate in Barcelona one day.

_____ is such a beautiful country and I love the language too.

Sarah: I have gone there and you would be happy to know that _____ people are really friendly. Have you gone anywhere else than here?

Mary: Yes, I have travelled with my family abroad a lot. Last year I didn't know what hokey is and now I have seen a match in _____. We also went to New York for some days since it is close to the _____.

Sarah: Oh, that's so nice. I am jealous. Are _____ and _____ friendly people? Did you meet any?

Mary: Yeah, they really are. I would also love to try an original pizza and pasta. You see I am a food lover.

Sarah: Yes, I have gone to _____. You should definitely persuade your parents to go there. _____ cuisine is delicious. Do you know where I would like to go?

Mary: No, where?

Sarah: I would love to visit the Great Wall and Hong Kong. It's in _____.

Mary: Yes, that would be nice. I also love _____ food.

Sarah: I have to go now. It was nice talking to you. I hope we meet again and chat. Chao!

Mary: Goodbye Sarah! Have a nice trip!

Sarah: Likewise!

