

Example sentences for vocabulary practice.

1. If you don't like the food, you should _____ to the cook!
2. Please use a _____ tone when writing your essay.
3. It is not _____ to use improper, shortened words in your writing.
4. Those words are known as _____ and you will lose points for them.
5. When you talk to your friends, you can speak in a more _____ tone.
6. You need to _____ your study habits to earn better grades.
7. I am being completely _____ when I tell you these things; I'm saying exactly what I mean.
8. "Don't _____ with me; I know what I'm talking about!" said the teacher.
9. If you can't agree with your friends, it might help to have a _____.
10. There are some _____ differences between formal and informal (casual) English.
11. His only _____ is that he loses his temper too easily.
12. "Okay, it's time to _____ all of our things and go home!"
13. You'd better _____ your arguments before the debate.
14. We cannot agree; your _____ about this topic is just not the same as mine.
15. T. Ron thinks it is _____ that scientists have found water on the Moon!
16. Some students did not complete their interview _____.
17. Tomorrow I will give you _____ about how to do well on the test. Don't let me forget!
18. Don't forget to use _____ marks if you put a direct _____ in your report.
19. When you've finished writing your story, send it to the _____. He will decide if he wants to publish it and he might ask you to make changes.
20. I had a good idea for a clever new _____,
21. so I decided to try to become an _____ and start a business with my idea.
22. I thought the design was very _____; my ideas were clever and new.
23. My product was designed to save people time, energy and money; it was a very _____ design.
24. I made a prototype and _____ why I thought my invention would make money.
25. I gave my _____ to some people who had money and were interested in my invention.
26. None of the _____ thought my invention was any good, so they didn't give me any money.
27. They explained that they thought the _____ was going to make a better product than me.
28. I told them I would get a _____ that would stop other people from copying my idea.