

EXERCISE 2

Imagine that you must give a suggestion to some people below.

Your friend is a new employee. She finds it hard to get along with her colleagues.

Your elder sister wants to resign from her current job. She is worried that her boss may reject her resignation.

Your cousin is called for an interview, but she doesn't feel confident with her physical appearance.

Your brother is concerned about how plastics have polluted the Earth, but he doesn't know how to start doing something for the environment.

Your brother is complaining about the expenses of his car maintenance and how the traffic jam is getting worse lately.

You should be more confidence of yourself if you want to convince the interviewer.

If you want to save the Earth, why don't you start from the simple action right away?

You'd better to be brave to build relationship with your colleagues if you want to have new friends in your company.

If I were you, I would stay in boarding house to save my energy and I don't need to think about vehicle maintenance.

If you want to make your boss sure about your decision, you should have appropriate reason of it.