

PAST SIMPLE OR PAST CONTINUOUS

Alexander Fleming (be) a great researcher.

He (do) research in his laboratory in winter 1928.

He (try) to find a new medicine to save people's lives.

He (find) a new medicine when he (work) on antibiotics.

This (be) the amazing penicillin.

Many other doctors (work) on this medicine in those days.

They (help) the first patient with penicillin in 1942 when the flu (now)

(get around).

