

Aborigine Wall Art, Australia

Group 1

When this Aborigine boy was eight years old, he placed his hand next to his father's handprint and spread apart his small brown fingers. Then he blew a chalky white powder between his fingers onto the wall. He is very proud to return and find his handprint on the rock wall. This rock wall and many others like it in Australia are covered with handprints and a collection of figures: skeletal fish, darting kangaroos, and people on horseback.

MAIN MENU MAP TABLE OF CONTENTS BEYOND THE WALLS READ NOTES HELP

Question 1: What kind of figures can be found on the rock walls in Australia?

- A) Handprints and drawings of trees
- B) Skeletal fish and flying birds
- C) Darting kangaroos and people on horseback
- D) Cars and buildings

Question 2: Why was the boy proud to find his handprint on the rock wall?

- A) Because it was his first time visiting the wall
- B) Because his handprint was bigger than his father's
- C) Because he used a special powder to create the handprint
- D) Because he had seen his friends' handprints there too

Question 3: What color was the chalky powder blown by the boy?

- A) Brown
- B) White
- C) Blue
- D) Red

Question 4: What was the age of the boy when he placed his handprint on the wall?

- A) Six years old
- B) Eight years old
- C) Ten years old
- D) Twelve years old

ξ Group 2

When this Aborigine boy was eight years old, he placed his hand next to his father's handprint and spread apart his small brown fingers. Then he blew a chalky white powder between his fingers onto the wall. He is very proud to return and find his handprint on the rock wall. This rock wall and many others like it in Australia are covered with handprints and a collection of figures: skeletal fish, darting kangaroos, and people on horseback.

MAIN MENU MAP TABLE OF CONTENTS BEYOND THE WALLS READ NOTES HELP

1. What did the Aborigine boy do when he was eight years old?

2. What did the Aborigine boy spread apart when he placed his hand next to his father's handprint?

3. What did the Aborigine boy blow between his fingers onto the wall?

4. What can be found on the rock walls in Australia?

5. What are some examples of the figures depicted on the rock walls?

Group 1 & 2:

Find 5 pictures of Aborigine Wall Art