I live in Los Angeles. It is a big town in Southern California on the west coast of the United States. It has many beaches and you can do many beach activities. My favorite thing to do is go scuba diving. There are many schools where you can learn. It is very easy and so much fun! I love looking at the sea life underwater. My favorite place to go scuba diving is Redondo Beach where I can play with the seals underwater.

Los Angeles is great because there are many other things you can do other than scuba diving. If you love the beach, you can also go surfing, sun bathing, swimming, and even play beach volleyball. In fact, Manhattan Beach is one of the most famous beach volleyball places. You can always see many people playing volleyball. Sometimes you can even see professional beach volleyball players!

If you do not want to get sandy at the beach, another great activity in Los Angeles is hiking. Just a short drive away, there are many great places to hike and see nature.

If you also love shopping like me, there are also many great places to go shopping. There are many malls and stores where you can spend all day trying on clothes and buying them.
