

Now that we know how a sonnet is built and how it rhymes, try and organize the following sonnet:

1. First see which line rhymes with which line.
2. Then look at the punctuation marks

Row	Line
	Thou art more lovely and more temperate:
	By chance or nature's changing course untrimm'd;
	Nor lose possession of that fair thou owest;
	Shall I compare thee to a summer's day?
	And often is his gold complexion dimm'd;
	And summer's lease hath all too short a date:
	When in eternal lines to time thou growest:
	But thy eternal summer shall not fade
	Rough winds do shake the darling buds of May,
	Nor shall Death brag thou wander'st in his shade,
	So long as men can breathe or eyes can see,
	Sometime too hot the eye of heaven shines,
	So long lives this and this gives life to thee.
	And every fair from fair sometime declines,
