

Activity 1.3.4

Match each part with its correct function.

Parts
defining the function
function arguments
function code
returned value
calling the function

Functions
writing the function name to use it in the code use a name that describes what the function does information that can be passed in the function to use them in the code a block of code inside the function value returned when the function is executed