

PASSIVE VOICE

Present Perfect

- Read the sentences and change the active voice sentences to passive voice form using present perfect.

1. The police have arrested the suspect in the murder case.

2. The killer has left behind a trail of clues for the investigators.

3. The forensic team hasn't gathered crucial evidence from the crime scene.

4. The witnesses have provided valuable information about the murder.

5. The forensic experts have examined the evidence.

6. The prosecutor has built a strong case against the alleged murderer.

7. Law enforcement has not identified the murderer responsible.

8. The police have not apprehended a suspect.
