

A popular magazine wants to find out what their readers think about people who buy tickets for concerts and sport events at normal prices and then sell them to others at much higher prices (known as ticket touting). On average, ticket resellers make a profit of over 50 %. What do you think about this?

Send in your essay and have it published in the magazine.

Ticket Touting

In your essay you should

- state reasons for allowing or forbidding ticket touting.
- explain why people buy tickets from touts and not from licensed ticket agencies.
- suggest ways to make tickets affordable for people who want to visit events.
- write about how you buy tickets

Write about 300 – 400 words and give your essay a title!

Room for corrections

