Sharing a Room

I have a problem. My room is messy, but it is not my fault. I share the room with my sister Karen, and she is very untidy. Her things are all over the place¹. I am a very tidy person, so I always tidy up after her. I put her clothes away in her closet and put her comic books back on her shelf. I also tidy her desk and empty her wastebasket. But then she is angry with me. "I can't find my things!" she yells². "We just can't live together! We don't get along!"

HELP! How can I solve my problem? What should I do?

Please give me some advice.
