Akemi,

I'm really sorry no one picked you up for the class party Friday night. Mindy told me last week she was going to pick you up, but I bet she forgot since she had two exams on Friday afternoon.

When I saw Mindy at the party, I figured you had another ride or weren't coming. I must have forgotten to turn my cell phone on, because I didn't see that you had called until I got home. Mario told me today that you called him last night, too, but he couldn't hear you, and then I guess his battery died.

Anyway, I should have called you to make sure you had a ride. Instead, I just assumed that someone else was dealing with the problem. I hope you're not too upset. Maybe we can all go out for coffee tomorrow after class. Let me know, OK?
