What are the positive factors that come out due to mass migration?

Mass migration is happening nowadays amongst people from Arabic countries especially from Syria. It is _____(1) actual and controversial problem as people have different opinions about it. Although it can have some problems _____(2) sure, as I see it, it has a lot of benefits to name, like for example a multicultural environment, which implies different languages. It can _____(3) carry an extension of customs, traditions, recipes, clothes, etc. The main advantage I can see from all of this is the variety of languages that can be in the same place. It would _____(4) be hard for the people at the beginning, but in the long term, for the following generations they would have a great knowledge of languages and that is a clear benefit _____(5) this process, as it is translated into a higher level of education which is related to research and development of the country, so for the economy as _____(6). Then, at the same time that people are integrating into society, they will do the same with their typical traditions and food. The culinary influence can lead _____(7) an extended variety and mixture of dishes, which is an obvious advantage too. To conclude, mass migration can be a beneficial process for _____(8) reasons, but as a general idea, it can make a society richer in all senses and the people more open-minded.
