It is Friday morning in Springtown. Mr Kittrick lives in Springtown. It's a great town and he loves it. Mr Kittrick is standing beside the zebra crossing. He's going to cross the road. He is carrying his newspaper. He goes to the newsagent every morning at about 9:30 and buys his paper. Sometimes, he brings some seeds and he feeds the pigeons. He puts the seeds beside the fountain where the pigeons drink. He watches the children going into school and some of them greet him. Today, there is a wedding. Mr Kittrick sees the wedding and it cheers him up. He loves to see a wedding. If the weather is fine and hot, Mr Kittrick finds a bench, or he goes to the park and reads his newspaper. If it's colder, he goes straight home and puts the kettle on and has a nice cup of tea. Mr Kittrick doesn't do much these days. He has a good friend who lives next door and sometimes they watch a football match together. And – he has a nice, friendly dog. Where is it? He whistles and it runs to join him.
