

Biographies

Anthony Francisco Schepperd is an American animator, artist, and filmmaker known for his experimental animation style and music videos. He was born on December 6, 1978, in New Jersey, USA.

Schepperd attended the School of Visual Arts in New York City, where he studied animation. He gained recognition for his music video for the song "Runaway" by the artist Kanye West, which he directed and animated in 2010. The video went on to win several awards, including the MTV Video Music Award for Best Special Effects.

Schepperd has also directed and animated music videos for other artists such as Flying Lotus, Blockhead, and Aesop Rock. His animation work is characterized by its blend of traditional and digital techniques, and its use of abstract and surreal imagery.

In addition to his music video work, Schepperd has also created short films and commercials. His short film "The Music Scene" won the Best Animated Short Film award at the 2010 South by Southwest Film Festival.

Schepperd continues to work as an animator and filmmaker, exploring new techniques and styles in his work. His unique style has earned him a following and recognition in the animation and music industries.

Steve Cutts is an animator and illustrator from London, England. He gained fame for his satirical and often dark animations that comment on modern society and the negative impact of consumerism, technology, and social media.

Cutts studied fine arts at University of Central Lancashire before beginning his career as an illustrator and animator. He started working in the animation industry in the late 90s and worked on projects for companies such as Glue London and MTV.

In 2012, Cutts created a short animated film titled "Man," which went viral and received critical acclaim. The film depicts the destructive relationship between humans and the environment, and its success led to Cutts being commissioned to create more animations on similar themes.

Cutts' animations are known for their striking visual style and attention to detail, often featuring a mix of hand-drawn and digital techniques. His work has been featured in numerous film festivals, including Sundance and Cannes, and has won multiple awards.

In addition to his animation work, Cutts has also created illustrations for various publications and advertising campaigns. His work has been featured in The Guardian, The New York Times, and Wired, among others.

Overall, Steve Cutts is a highly talented and influential animator and illustrator who has made a significant impact on the animation industry with his thought-provoking and visually stunning work.

Read the next statements. To which artist do they correspond, Anthony Francisco or Steve?

1. Born in London, this artist is famous for his satirical and often dark animations that comment on modern society and the negative impact of consumerism, technology, and social media.

Steve Cutts

2. This artist is known for his experimental animation style and music videos, which blend traditional and digital techniques and use abstract and surreal imagery.

3. This artist studied animation and gained recognition for directing and animating music videos for well-known artists.

4. This artist's animation work is characterized by its striking visual style and attention to detail, often featuring a mix of hand-drawn and digital techniques.

5. This artist's short film about the destructive relationship between humans and the environment went viral and received critical acclaim, leading to more commissions on similar themes.

6. This artist has won multiple awards for their animation work and has been featured in numerous film festivals.

7. This artist has also created illustrations for various publications and advertising campaigns, with their work being featured in The Guardian, The New York Times, and Wired, among others.

8. This artist's unique style has earned them a following and recognition in the animation and music industries.

9. This artist explores new techniques and styles in their work and continues to make an impact on the animation industry.

10. This artist has worked on projects for well-known companies, such as Glue London and MTV.

