My most important event!

Dear father,

I hope you're well. I _____ (write) to tell you how things are going at the University.

Do you remember that as a child I dreamed of becoming a Las Águilas player? Well, I _____ (fulfill) my dream! When I entered college, a classmate, who is my best friend, I told him about my love for basketball and he helped me get on the team.

Every day I _____ (try) very hard to become the best player; Currently, I am one of the favorites, but I am not yet the best; Anyway, my friends say that I _____ (do) a good job and that I _____ (raise) the name of the school... can you believe it! I _____ (give) my best, I train for 2 hours every day, and apart from that I _____ (spend) my time in the gym, so I can be in good shape for the games. My body is _____ (adapt) to long days of play and I feel like I _____ (improve) every day; What's more, the coach says he _____ (see) enthusiasm and potential in me.

Next weekend Las Águilas will face Los Búfalos and I hope you can attend the game to celebrate our possible victory. I'm already imagining how good it will feel to see you sitting in the stands supporting me.

I sincerely invite you, I look forward to seeing you there,

Mike.
