Bob: Well, let's take a look at some of the best and make a decision.
Darren: OK, the first person is Phil. He has worked as a salesperson for 10 years in both The United States and Canada. Also, he has been the manager of the sales department of a large auto-parts company.
Bob: Sounds interesting, but has he ever worked in the food sales industry?
Darren: No he hasn't.
Bob: That might be a problem. We need someone with food experience.
Darren: OK, what about Karen? She has worked in the food industry for 6 years. She has been a manager of a major supermarket and worked in marketing for a large meat company.
Bob: OK. Has she worked in international sales before?
Darren: No, she has never worked in international sales.
Bob: Well, that could be a problem. This job will require a lot of international experience. I think we need someone who has worked in an international environment
Darren: Well what about Larry? We haven't met him yet but his resume looks good. He has been a salesperson in the food industry for 13 years. He has worked in The United States, Canada and Mexico. In the past 4 years he has learned to speak Spanish and French.
Bob: Wow, sounds great!
Darren: The problem is we still haven't had an interview with him. I have called him many times, but I haven't been able to reach him.
Bob: Well, why don't you send him an email? Perhaps he will respond that way.
Darren: OK, I will try that. I will let you know.
Bob: Great, thanks.
