WORK SMARTER NOT HARDER

We all have too much work to do and too little time to do it. Managing your time is a challenge, but the secret is to work smarter not harder.

First, know when to work. When are you most awake? When are you sleepy? Some people work better at night, others first thing in the morning. You should do creative work or complicated work when you are at your best. When you're not at your best, you should do jobs which don't need a lot of thinking, like reading emails or calling a colleague.

Second, eat and sleep well to work well. Have you ever had a large lunch and felt so sleepy that you couldn't think? It's better to eat small amounts of food several times a day than to eat two or three large meals. A large meal at night can have a bad effect on your sleep quality and on your ability to think. It's important to not only get enough sleep but to also get good quality sleep.

Exercise is important too. In fact, exercising can make you feel more awake than having a cup of coffee. In addition, exercise makes you feel happier, and happy people work better!

Finally, do the right work at the right time. A few experts say you should do your most difficult piece of work first. After you've finished that, you'll feel ready to do almost any other job on your to-do list. But most experts say the opposite; they suggest starting with something simple. Doing that will make you feel successful and ready to do your next job.
