

Three little pigs

Group 3

Soon the wolf comes knocking on the door.

“Little pig, little pig, let me come in!” he calls.

“Not by the hair of my chinny chin will I open the door and let you come in!” cries the little pig.

“Then I’ll huff and I’ll puff and I’ll blow your house down!” roars the wolf.

So he huffs and he puffs and he does it a lot of times. But the brick house does not fall down.

The next day the wolf comes back.

“Little pig!” he says. “Let’s go and dig turnips together tomorrow morning!”

The little pig goes to dig turnips that evening. When the wolf comes the next morning, the field is empty and the pig is eating the turnip at home. The wolf is very angry . But he says, “Let’s go and pick apples tomorrow morning!”

When the wolf comes in the morning, the little pig is up in the tree. He throw apples at the wolf. Then he jumps down, gets into a barrel and rolls away down the hill to his brick house.
