Many people who work in London prefer to live outside it, and go to their offices, factories or schools everyday by train, car or bus. This means they have to get up earlier in the morning and come home later in the evening. One advantage of living outside London is that houses are cheaper. A small flat in London without a garden costs quite a lot to rent. With the same money, they can get a little house in the country with a garden of their own. In addition, in the country they can rest from the noise and hurry of the town. Although they have to get up earlier and spend more time in trains or buses, they can sleep better at night and during weekends. In summer evenings, they enjoy the fresh and clean air of the country. If they like gardens, they can spend their free time digging, planting, watering and doing the hundred jobs which are needed in a garden.
