

QUIZ REVIEW: TRAITS THAT HELP ANIMALS MEET THEIR NEEDS (PART 2)

Animals have special traits that help them defend themselves against other animals. Click at the right trait for each animal.

Turtles and snails have a (shell / urine) that works as a protective shield.

Deer, moose, and elk have (spines / antlers) on their head.

Bulls, rhinos, buffalos, & rams have (horns / shells) on their head.

Porcupines & hedgehogs have (spines & quills / antlers & horns) that protect them.

Horned lizards shoot (blood / venom) out of their eyes to scare away predators.

Spitting cobras shoot (blood / venom) at the eyes to blind its attacker.

Skunks have smelly (tusks / urine) to scare animals away.

Elephant and walrus have long and sharp (tusks / antlers).

Clown fish are immune to the poison of (snakes / sea anemone).

Frilled lizards open their (frills / wings) to scare away predators.

Animals have special traits that help them build shelters. Click at the right trait for each animal.

Parrots and woodpeckers use hard, sharp, and powerful (beaks / wings) to build nests in trees.

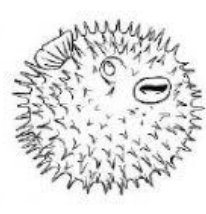

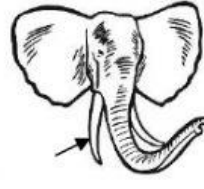

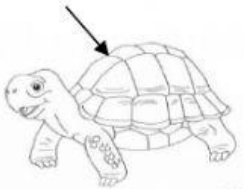

Beavers have strong teeth that cut trees and branches to build (dams in water/ nests in trees).

Prairie dog & moles have long and sharp (claws / beaks) to dig holes and tunnels.

Desert tortoises have strong forearms and tough nails to dig burrows in the (Antarctic / desert).

Drag the following words under the right picture:

shell spines tusks antlers horns

Click at the animals that match the trait that is being described.

a) A fatty hump keeps this desert animal's body temperature from getting too high so it does not sweat or dehydrate.

panda bears mountain goat camels wolverine

b) They have thick, dense, and warm fur to protect them from the cold.

panda bears mountain goat camels wolverine

Animals have special traits that are used for getting water. Click at the right trait for each animal.

Frogs can absorb water through their (skin / eyes).

Koalas get the water they need by eating (eucalyptus / bamboo) leaves.

Marine iguanas can drink (salt / fresh) water from the ocean.

Camels use fat from their (hump / stomach) as energy when there is no water.

Desert tortoises dig holes on the (tree's / ground's) surface to catch rainwater.

Click at the animal name that matches the animal picture.

prairie dog / mole

skunk / beaver

porcupine / hedgehog

ram / moose

woodpecker / parrot

Bactrian / dromedary

walrus / narwhal

bear / wolverine