Reading Comprehension (from GE Stage 4 U5)

Selma's strange discovery

Last year Selma won an important competition, Young Scientist of the Year! Before she knew it, she was invited to join an exciting expedition in the Amazon jungle. The scientists wanted to find an ancient temple, lost in the jungle for over 1,000 years.

The scientists flew to the base camp, deep in the jungle, in a tiny plane. When it landed, Selma stared in wonder at the beautiful, lush, green rainforest. But she didn't have time to stand and stare: Dr Dax, the big boss, wanted to start immediately... 'OK everyone let's find the temple! Go that way! Selma! Then meet back at camp at six o'clock.

Selma pushed into the jungle with determination. The jungle got thicker and deeper with big branches. It was hot and humid, there were lots of buzzing insects and the air was full of sounds. Monkeys screeched and jumped above her head, swinging through the branches.

She sniffed the warm, scented air... Then suddenly another smell made her jump. 'Petrol? Can I smell...petrol?' she whispered to herself. She looked ahead and saw the top of something small and round. 'Is that...a car?'

Circle the correct answer:
