"As a real estate agent, I highly recommend this company. I booked a photo shoot with little notice a few weeks ago, and the photographer, Ms. Sato, arrived early and worked hard. I got the high-quality images back in only two days, and I was even allowed to pay with a company check."

— Lisa Tobias, Wednesday, August 26

"They are professional yet affordable. I originally booked the 10-photo package, but at the last minute I decided to have 15 pictures taken. I'm glad I did. Mr. Mull, the photographer, was excellent. I just received my photos today, two days after the shoot. They look great."

Morning Sun Four-Cup Coffee Maker Instructions for Use

1. Remove the pot from the hotplate.
2. Open the cover of the pot and use the pot's indicator lines to fill it with the desired amount of water. Close the pot.
3. Pour the water from the pot into the water reservoir in the top of the coffee maker.
4. Return the pot to the hotplate.
5. Insert a paper filter into the filter basket in the top of the coffee maker.
6. Put the desired amount of ground coffee into the filter. We recommend 1 to 1.5 tablespoons of ground coffee per cup.
7. Close the top of the coffee maker securely.
8. Push the "On" button to begin brewing. Do not remove the pot from the hotplate until the power light shuts off.

The machine must be cleaned between uses, but we ask that you do not attempt to do it yourself. The cleaning staff will do it during their daily visit to your room.

Hi Travis,

We've received some minor guest complaints about the Lywen "Morning Sun" coffee makers that we bought through Bruggins Limited. Guests are saying that you can't actually put the filter into the filter basket without taking it out of the coffee maker first. But the instructions we've provided don't specify that, and the filter is a little hard to remove, so people aren't sure if it's the right thing to do or not.

I checked the instructions for the Jares Home coffee makers in our business suites and the Qualcedo in the breakfast room, and the results were mixed—the Qualcedo model mentions removing the basket and the Jares doesn't. But we've never had complaints about the Jares.

Could you look into the issue?

Thanks,

Vicky

Hi Vicky,

I called the manufacturer, and they confirmed that the instructions should have specified that extra step. They were very apologetic and said they're planning to revise the product manual. So, I will replace the current instructions in our guest rooms with a corrected version.

You know, this happened because I just copied the instructions in the manual without actually trying them out. That had been fine for our other machines. But now I see that it is risky. I'm sorry, and I won't make that mistake again.

Best,

Travis

Sign Regulations

Rowder's Department of Planning and Development Services (DPDS) oversees the enforcement of city regulations relating to commercial uses of signs. Its staff is committed to providing a favorable atmosphere for businesses while also maintaining a pleasant living space for citizens.

The city's comprehensive sign ordinances are listed here, but for your convenience, information on the most common types of temporary commercial signs is provided below in a simplified form.

Grand opening signs: With the approval of the DPDS, a new business can display signs advertising its opening for up to 30 days. This is the only circumstance in which free-standing outdoor signs are permitted.

Holiday promotional signs: Businesses do not need the DPDS's approval to display promotional signs related to Christmas or New Years for up to 15 days, and signs related to six other specified holidays for up to 5 days.

Other large promotional banners: The DPDS's approval is required for all other promotional banners over 20 square feet in surface area. These banners may be displayed for up to 14 days at a time, three times per year.

Do you disagree with a DPDS decision? Click here to find out how to file an appeal with the city council.

Dear Ms. Brock,

I regret to inform you that the Department of Planning and Development Services (DPDS) cannot approve your recent application for a temporary commercial sign permit. The city's appearance standards for the downtown business district do not allow the use of bright colors in signs (Rowder Municipal Code 9.34.130). Please resubmit your application with a design that addresses this issue.

Should you have any questions about this decision, you may call me at 555-0186.

Sincerely,

Raymond Morgan
