Boy I built a tree house last weekend.

Girl Oh, I've always wanted a tree house. How did you build it?

Boy Well, first, my dad and I cut the wood for the house. They looked great. But my tree house doesn't look like the tree house in the Girl Oh dear. Why not?

Boy Well, Dad got some long boards to make the roof and the walls. We worked hard but it was Girl I see.

Boy First I had to cut the

Girl I hope you were

Boy Of course. Dad was there with me. I didn't hurt myself. Next, I used a hammer to join the pieces of wood together.

Once I nailed my roof to a board.

Girl Oh dear. That's funny. Has your tree house got windows?

Boy Yes, it has. And there is a window in both windows.

Girl That's really cool. So it's like a real house, but it's up in a tree.

Boy Yes. Dad used a ladder and he climbed the tree house into the tree. It looks a bit funny, but I love it.

Girl I can't wait to see it.
