

1. Complete the conversations by circling the best answers. Then practise reading them.

1. Lan: Nam, do you think family routines are necessary?

Nam: Yes. _____ each family should have some routines to help build strong family bonds.

A. I'm not sure that

B. I strongly believe that

C. I agree that

D. I hope that

2. Lan: What do you think about the British family value of being truthful and honest?

Nam: _____, it's one of the first things parents should teach their children.

A. In their opinion

B. In a nutshell

C. In my own way

D. In my opinion

3. Lan: Nam, do you think parents should help their children do their homework?

Nam: Well, _____ parents should let their children do their homework by themselves so they can become independent.

A. I don't think

B. I wish that

C. I believe that

D. I hope that

4. Lan: Do you think teens should learn how to cook?

Nam: Well, _____ they can learn it when they start their own families. As teens, they should spend all their time on study.

A. I suppose that

B. I hope that

C. I doubt that

D. I agree that