

True/False Questions	TRUE	FALSE
1. Neil frequently does the washing up at home, especially after special occasions like Christmas.
2. According to Alice, "domestic" refers to activities related to the workplace rather than the family or home.
3. Neil considers himself skilled at domestic chores and enjoys doing them regularly.
4. The quiz question focuses on the percentage of men responsible for giving the house a weekly clean, based on a recent Mumsnet survey.
5. Geoff and Sarah's household is portrayed as atypical, with Geoff doing more chores than Sarah.
6. Geoff suggests that switching roles at home is generally a negative thing.
7. Alice highlights that some domestic tasks, such as doing the laundry, are often considered gender-specific to women.
8. Neil agrees with the idea of switching roles in a household, calling it a positive revolution.
9. According to Professor Gershuny, it is crucial for both partners, whether male or female, to protect their earning capacity in marriages.
10. Professor Gershuny uses the scenario of someone running off with their secretary to emphasize the importance of protecting earning power in relationships.		