

Science

Thermometers

32	Temperature	0	Fahrenheit	Alcohol
Clinical	212	Silver	Thermometer	37
Laboratory	100	Celsius	98.5	Fahrenheit
				Red

1. A _____ is an instrument that is used to measure temperature.
2. The measure of how hot or cold something is called _____.
3. Freeze point is at _____ degrees Celsius and _____ degrees Fahrenheit.
4. The Liquid Crystal thermometers may contain Mercury or _____.
5. A _____ thermometer may be in medical institutions or at home for personal use.
6. The colour of alcohol used in a Liquid Crystal thermometer is _____.
7. Boiling Point in Fahrenheit is _____ degrees while in Celsius it is _____ degrees.

8. The unit of measuring temperature that is most commonly used is degrees _____.
9. A person's normal body temperature is _____Degrees Celsius.
10. If someone has a fever it means that his/her has a body temperature which exceeds _____ Fahrenheit.