his parents' social worker. Unfortunately, his foster father was a strict 5..... and often beat him. Bob rebelled against this strict 6....., and by the time he was eight, he was already 7....., stealing from shops and playing truant. By the time he reached 8....., sometime around his 13th birthday, he had already appeared in court several times, charged with 9..... crime. The judge blamed his foster parents, explaining that children needed 10..... parents and guardians who would look after them properly. The foster father objected to this, pointing out that Bob's 11..... – his two brothers and sister – were 12..... children who behaved at home and worked well at school.

This has raised some interesting questions about the modern family system. While it is true that parents should not be too 13..... with children by letting them do what they want when they want, or be too 14..... by sheltering them from the realities of life, it is also true that they should not be too strict. It has also highlighted the disadvantages of the modern 15..... family where the child has only its mother and father to rely on (or the 16..... family, in which the mother or father has to struggle particularly hard to support their 17.....). In fact, many believe that we should return to traditional family values and the 18..... family: extensive research has shown that children from these families are generally better behaved and have a better chance of success in later life.
