

A Busy Weekend

Last weekend, Sarah had a busy time. On Saturday, she wanted to take some pictures at the park, so she grabbed her digital camera and headed out. Unfortunately, she couldn't find it! She looked everywhere, but it was nowhere to be seen. She asked her family if they had seen it, but no one had.

Later that day, she planned to watch her favorite movie on the DVD player. She searched for the remote control, but it was also missing. She asked her brother if he had borrowed it, but he said he hadn't. It seemed like things were disappearing in their house!

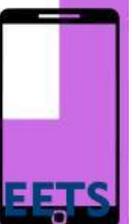

On Sunday, Sarah had to finish her math homework. She needed a calculator to help her with the tricky problems. When she opened her backpack, the calculator wasn't there. She asked her mom if she had seen it, but her mom hadn't used it.

In the afternoon, Sarah's friends invited her to the park for a picnic. She wanted to bring her favorite snacks and share them with everyone, so she went to the kitchen to get her headphones. Strangely, they were nowhere to be found. She checked with her sister, but she hadn't seen them either.

By the evening, Sarah was feeling frustrated. She needed her laptop to finish a school project. She searched her room, the living room, and even the bathroom – but no laptop. She asked her dad, but he didn't remember seeing it.

Finally, it was time for bed, and Sarah needed her mobile phone to set the alarm for the next day. She looked on her bedside table, in her bag, and under her pillow. No phone! She asked her family, but none of them had seen it.

In the end, Sarah realized that she had misplaced many of her electronic devices. The weekend had been a bit chaotic, but she learned to be more careful with her belongings. The next week, she made sure to keep track of her things, and everything went smoothly.
