Future forms in context

Read the interview with Sasha. Choose the most suitable future form.

I: Hello, Sasha. It is good of you to be interviewed today, as I know you have a busy training schedule.

S: That's OK. _____ a couple of days off anyway as it's my birthday tomorrow. _____ 18 - an adult at last.

I: Only 18 and you've accomplished so much already! You won a bronze medal at the European Championships last year, and I know you _____ to win gold at the next Olympics.

S: That's my dream. I _____ until I've done all I can to achieve it. That's what keeps me going through the hours of training. I keep telling myself it'll be worth it if I _____ gold. Failure isn't an option.

I: You're very tough on yourself, Sasha. That's a lot of commitment and hard work. You're still young. Surely you must spend some time with friends?

S: No, gymnastics is everything to me. I _____ intensively for six years by the next Olympics, and every minute of practice helps.

I: The World Championships _____ in Germany next year. How are you preparing?

S: Well, I'm good at the pommel horse and the parallel bars, so by the time the Championships start, I _____ on them the most. I think the bars _____ my best event.

I: Will you _____ for a medal?

S: Yes, I _____. Maybe silver or bronze.

I: You're such a good role model for young people today. Do you have any advice for other young hopefuls?

S: Yes. Never lose sight of your dream. If you work hard, you _____ successful.

I: Thank you, Sasha. Good luck, and happy birthday...
