IV. Choose the correct answer and write the letter.

One door leads to freedom, but which one? One guard tells the truth, but which one? I can ask one question, but what?

Here's a problem for you. Imagine you're in a prison cell with two doors. There's a guard at each door. You can ask one of the guards one question, and then you can go through one door.

(1) you choose the right door, you can go free. (2) , if you choose the wrong door, you have to stay in prison forever!

And it gets worse! (3) one of the guards always tells the truth, the other one always lies. And you don't know which one tells the truth.

It's an impossible situation – isn't it? No, it's not. But (4) you're extremely careful, you might choose the wrong door. And you shouldn't choose a door (5) you're absolutely sure it's the door to freedom. And you'll only know it's the right door (6) you ask the right question. So – if you ever find yourself in that situation, here's what you do.

Say to one of the guards, 'If I asked the other guard which door leads to freedom, what would he say?' (7) of not knowing if the guard always tells the truth or always lies, you'll always get an answer that will help you. (8) you get the answer, go through the other door. You'll be free!
