Hi Amir,

I know that you liked the Gilbardo Street office that I showed you on Monday, but I've just learned about a new space that might be an even better fit for your business. It's a second-floor corner space in the Mowery Building that gets a lot of light. It's larger than the Gilbardo Street office, but the price per square foot is the same. The Gilbardo Street office is a little closer to downtown, but since the Mowery Building is right next to the highway, there won't be a big difference in convenience. And the Mowery office has a shorter lease term, so if you don't like it, you won't have to stay there long.

I really think you should take a look at this new space. Let me know if you're interested, and I can schedule a viewing.

Regards,

Darlene

Dear Mr. Somchai,

Thank you for letting us know about your visit this afternoon. While we do usually require groups like yours to give us at least one day's notice before arrival, we will luckily be able to accommodate you this time.

Since you mentioned the Over the Mountains exhibition that is normally located on our third floor, I have to warn you it is currently on loan to the Meehan Museum in the United Kingdom. There is related merchandise available in our first-floor gift shop, but if the exhibition is the main attraction for your group, you should consider rescheduling your visit for August, when it will be on display here again.

If you decide to come anyway, we will look forward to seeing you this afternoon.

Best,

Vera Gordan
Operations Manager

Arlene Foster

Representative of District 4 (district map)

Though in her first term with the city council, Arlene has spent her entire career in public service. She was raised and attended university in Zantry. After graduating with a degree in political science, she first worked at a nonprofit organization based in Venkins that promotes the building of affordable housing. She then moved to Shalkon to become part of former council member Mitchell Blair's staff. In her time in that role, she assisted with projects such as the SETIP package of tax incentives for making environmentally-friendly improvements to residential and commercial properties.

Since joining the council, Arlene has focused on improving traffic congestion issues across Shalkon, including by planning the widening of Young Avenue. She is dedicated to maintaining open lines of communication with her constituents and reserves Tuesday mornings and Thursday afternoons exclusively for meetings with the public.

Dear Councilmember,

Director Buchanan passed your inquiry on to me, as my team handles road signs in the city.

To answer your main question—yes, there would be limitations on the design of the sign. It must be either the style of general traffic signs (green with white lettering) or the style of Shalkon city informational signs (light gold with white lettering and the city logo). Also, note that the latter option is only available for signs that stand on one side of the road.

I'd be happy to meet with you this week to discuss these options in more detail. I'm free on Thursday afternoon and Friday morning. Which would you prefer?

Sincerely,

Oliver Cortez

City Names Stretch of Webster Road after Cummings

(September 29)—A section of Webster Road between Coleman Street and Young Avenue has been co-named in honor of Frances Cummings, Shalkon's first female mayor.

Shalkon city council member Arlene Foster, who proposed the tribute, gathered with members of the late Mayor Cummings's family and others near the intersection of Webster Road and Coleman Street yesterday for a small unveiling ceremony.

The crowd cheered as a tarp was pulled off a new sign bridge that spans Webster Road and proclaims the subsequent half-mile of road to be "Frances Cummings Way". This section of road was chosen because of its proximity to Talmage Park, which Mayor Cummings famously revitalized during her tenure in office.

Council member Foster and Edmund Cummings, Mayor Cummings's son, gave speeches highlighting the mayor's positive impact on Shalkon.

196. What does the Web page state about Ms. Foster?

(A) She is not a native of Shalkon.
(B) She has been elected multiple times.
(C) She owns property on Young Avenue.
(D) She does not work in the field her degree is in.

197. When did Mr. Cortez and Ms. Foster most likely meet?

(A) On a Thursday morning
(B) On a Thursday afternoon
(C) On a Friday morning
(D) On a Friday afternoon

198. In the e-mail, the word "passed" in paragraph 1, line 1, is closest in meaning to

(A) relayed
(B) enacted
(C) declined
(D) surpassed

199. What is most likely true about the finished sign?

(A) It features a city symbol.
(B) It is visible from the entrance to a park.
(C) It is located outside of a city's limits.
(D) Its background is green.

200. What did Ms. Foster speak about on September 28 ?

(A) The future of a scientific endeavor
(B) The accomplishments of a local politician
