Countable and uncountable nouns

1 Tick the correct sentence in each pair.

1 a International aid is very important after natural disasters.
  b International aids are very important after natural disasters.

2 a Every country has its own customs and behaviours.
  b Every country has its own customs and behaviour.

Many common nouns in English are uncountable – they do not have a plural form and they are followed by a singular verb form. These include: aid, behaviour, clothing, employment, equipment, furniture, help, information, pollution, software, transport:
A lot of information is available on the internet.

Nouns ending -ing to describe an activity are also uncountable: advertising, farming, shopping, swimming, training, etc.:
This type of farming causes damage to the environment.

Some words have countable [C] and uncountable [U] forms used in different contexts:
He has no work experience. (U: knowledge and skills you gain by doing something)
Going into hospital is often a stressful experience. (C: a particular event or situation)
How much time do you spend commuting?* (U: hours, minutes, etc.)
How many times do you go each week?* (C: occasions)
The waiters all wear local dress. (U: clothes for a particular context)
She had two bridesmaids in pink dresses. (C: a piece of women's clothing)
Also: We often go walking in the country. (singular: the countryside)
   He's visited a number of countries. (C: a nation)
