M Read the article. Then choose the correct answer.

Dear Ms Jackson,

I am writing to express my interest in working on one of your volunteer projects in South Africa. I have looked at the different projects you organize around the world, and the one I think fits my skills and interests best is the child care project in Cape Town.

Next month I will graduate from high school, and in September I will start college to pursue a major in elementary education. I am particularly interested in child psychology and development, and right now I am planning to specialize in this area as a career. I think that your project in Cape Town would help me understand the needs of young children and prepare me well for starting my major. South Africa is a country I have never visited, but I'm interested to learn more about it.

I believe that I would be a valuable member of your team because I am responsible and hard-working. This year in high school I was awarded the Citizenship Prize. This is a trophy that is awarded each year to the student who has done significant community service. For the last three years I have done volunteer work at a local care home for the elderly.

I love working with children and am passionate about education. I also have some skills which may be useful for the project. In my free time I play hockey and basketball. I also love singing and sing in a youth choir.

I hope you will find my application for a place on the volunteer care project in Cape Town is a good fit. I am attaching my CV here for more information about my qualifications.

Kind regards,

Sandra

LIVEWORKSHEETS

N Read the article. Then match the statements to the solutions (A–E).

With the rising costs of housing, renting and buying can be difficult and, for some, even impossible. With creativity and imagination, young people are finding solutions like these.

A Moving back in with parents

If you have struggled to buy a house or pay rent, moving back in with your parents may be an option. It doesn't have to be a permanent solution, but it can provide comfort and financial stability.

B Apartment sharing

Apartment sharing is a way of having some independence but without having the responsibility to pay all expenses yourself. Choose your roommates carefully, find an apartment that suits all of you, and be prepared to compromise.

C Houseboats

In many cities with access to water, houseboats are all the rage. The price of buying and renovating a houseboat is much less than buying or renting a house. Instead of rent or a mortgage, you pay water fees. However, you may have to move the boat every few weeks due to some regulations. And the size of the space you live in isn't very big.

D Metal shipping containers

Metal shipping containers can be transformed into houses. You need to make sure you purchase the right size. And you need to be aware of the building regulations in your area. It's best to find a contractor who has previous experience making houses out of shipping containers.

E The Tiny House movement

Some people choose to live in much smaller spaces called tiny houses. Some reasons people are joining this movement include environmental concerns, financial limitations, and a desire for more time and freedom.

1 You're concerned about how housing affects our planet. ___
2 You enjoy changing your surroundings regularly. ___
3 Saving money is your top priority. ___
4 You enjoy being around other people. ___
5 You are prepared to do research and talk to experts for help. ___
