Part 4 READING COMPREHENSION

1. Read the passage and choose the best answer to each of the following questions. (5 points)

A student at Loughborough University in the UK has designed a robotic guide dog that will help guide visually impaired people who are unable to keep a real animal for some reasons. This product is called Theia, named after the goddess of sight. Basically, Anthony Camu, the inventor, integrates the functions of a guide dog into a device which can be held in hand. Using real-time online data such traffic or weather conditions, the device can program routes that take the users to destinations safely and quickly. The price of this device is also affordable, just around 10 per cent of the cost of keeping a guide dog. This is definitely a practical solution for the visually impaired who cannot afford or keep a guide dog.

- Who will find a robotic guide dog helpful?
 - A blind person who cannot keep a real guide dog
 - A blind person who has a lot of money
 - A deaf person who cannot afford a real guide dog
 - A deaf person who is afraid of a real guide dog
- Why is the dog named "Theia"?
 - The robotic guide dog lights the dark places for its owner.
 - The robotic guide dog looks like the goddess of sight.
 - The robotic guide dog serves the same functions as the eyes.
 - The robotic guide dog is a practical solution for anyone.
