Tell us about the jobs your grandparents did!

Shaun

My grandfather started working as a train driver when he left school and he drove trains all his life. There weren't any electric trains then and the trains he drove were old and dirty. He started work at 7 o'clock in the morning and he didn't finish until 6 o'clock in the afternoon. Sometimes the train was late and he didn't even have a lunch break. My grandfather says he had a great time on the trains because his workmates were very friendly but I think it was difficult and probably badly paid.

Wendy

My grandmother was a hairdresser when she was young. She started working as a nurse but the hours were very long. After my mother was born, my grandmother needed a part-time job and hairdressing was perfect for her. She always worked from 10 o'clock until 1 o'clock and then she went home to prepare the lunch. She says she really liked it because she enjoyed meeting new people. She's very friendly and she loves talking! She met lots of interesting people, including some famous actors and actresses. It wasn't always well paid but I don't think it was hard work!

Shaun's grandfather ...

- worked on (1)
- worked (2) hours every day.
- didn't have an (3) job.

Wendy's grandmother ...

- was a (4) before she was a hairdresser.
- didn't have a (5) job.
- liked (6) people and talking to them.
