FROM ZERO TO HERO

The American singer Katy Perry is known all around the world today, and some people think that she became famous suddenly. In fact, Perry experienced many challenges before getting the success she wanted.

Katy Perry was born in 1984. Her real name is Katheryn Hudson. When she was a child, she listened to gospel music with her brothers and sisters. She started singing by practicing with her sister's cassette tapes and then performed the songs for her parents. Her family was poor, and she knew that she would have to work at being a successful singer. When she was 13, she was given a guitar and started performing songs she had written herself.

In 1999, she took a risk by leaving high school to follow her dream of being a singer. She was only 15 years old. In 2001, her first album, Katy Hudson, came out. But only 200 copies were sold, and, soon after, the record company went out of business!

She changed her style of music from gospel to pop music and moved to Los Angeles. In 2004, she got a contract with Columbia Records, started working on her second record, and also wrote songs with a band called The Matrix. But, before her record was finished, the record company ended her contract.

Finally, in 2006, Perry was signed to her fourth record company, Capitol Music Group. That year she had her first successful song eleven years after getting her first guitar! Her album One of the Boys became a success around the world, and now she is one of the most successful female singers of all time.

Katy Perry's story shows us that to be successful you don't need to be born rich or lucky. You can be successful by working hard and not giving up. So, if you have a dream, keep on trying!
