Below is a list of engineering project management skills. Match the key skills on the left with the application of these skills on the right?

Organisation skills	motivating team members to work together towards achieving the set goals of the project
Analytical skills	providing clear information and instruction to a team member
Communication skills	determine the best approach to the process and identify the resources needed to accomplish the tasks.
Leadership skills	detailed scheduling of the dates of completion for each stage of the design process
Problem-solving skills	finding solutions to various difficult or complex issues that arise during the project

LIVEWORKSHEETS