1.1 Let's Read

In California, US, company Miso Robotics makes a special robot. The robot helps in restaurants.

The robot has arms. Robots in car factories have similar arms. At first, the robot only turns burgers. Workers think that the robot can do other things, too.
Now, the robot makes french fries, fried onions, and other meals. A computer controls the robot.

The robot works faster than people. It can do more tasks at the same time. The robot knows exactly when the food is ready.
The robot does tasks which nobody wants to do. Workers are happy that somebody does this demanding work. The work is easier for them at night.

1.4 LET'S READ

The world is getting warm fast.

Global warming surpassed 1.5°C for the first time. It was more than the target which world leaders set in 2015.

Experts worry about the impacts which rising temperature has on nature and food systems. World leaders signed international agreements like the Paris Agreement, but extreme weather events worldwide show us that we need to do more and do it quickly.

Good things are happening, for example, the US invested a trillion dollars into new technologies and China wants to make more renewable energy. But it is still not enough and we need more action to deal with the negative impacts of climate change.
