The image shows a map of Colombia divided into six natural regions, each with a distinct color: Región Amazónica (dark green), Región Andina (brown), Región Caribe (yellow), Región Orinoquía (light green), Región Pacífico (purple), and Región Insular (red). The regions are labeled with their names in Spanish. To the right of the map is a legend titled 'REGIONES NATURALES DE COLOMBIA' with color-coded boxes for each region. Below the legend are ten small icons representing different elements: a person in a pink dress, a person in a red shirt and hat, a person with a pineapple on their head, a person in a red shirt and hat, a person in a green shirt, a person in a brown hat, a person in a blue shirt, a person in a blue shirt, a person in a blue shirt, and a person in a blue shirt. These icons are intended to be dragged and dropped onto the map to identify the region they belong to.
