Reading 1: T/F/NG. Nowadays, teenagers use digital technologies for everyday activities like keeping in touch with friends on social media, relaxing and doing schoolwork. There are some tips that they need to know to avoid online risks. Firstly, keep your personal information private. Never tell a stranger where you live or your phone number. If you're not sure whether you should share something or not, ask a parent. You should also think carefully before you post. As soon as a message or a photo is put online, someone can take a screenshot of it and it can be online forever. Secondly, be choosy about your online friends. It's not safe to meet an online friend in person. Keep in mind that online friends are not the same as real in-person friends. Some people might say they're in seventh grade online but actually are adults. Moreover, don't be mean or embarrass other people online. Tell an adult right away if someone says something to you that makes you uncomfortable. Also, tell an adult if you see anyone bullying or saying unkind stuff to other children.

1. You shouldn't share your personal information with strangers.
2. It's easy to remove a post or a photo after you put it online.
3. Meeting up online friends can be dangerous.
4. Teenagers always lie about who they are online.
5. It's necessary to tell an adult when someone online upsets you.

Reading 3: My name is Sylvia and my favourite gadget is my e-book reader, Kindle. I got it on my last birthday. It's smaller and lighter than a tablet. The battery even lasts longer. In fact, it can run for weeks on a single charge. Besides, it hasn't got an LCD colour display like a tablet or smartphone, so it doesn't cause eye strain even when you read for long hours. I love my Kindle because I always have lots of books to read on the bus. I can store up to 1,500 books on it, but I only have forty-five. I'm never bored with my Kindle. Last Christmas, my grandparents gave my brother and me a hoverboard. It's like an electronic skateboard, which is really cool. At first, it was difficult for me to keep my balance on the hoverboard. My brother rode it better than me. We use it to travel around the neighborhood and in the park. Hoverboards work better on flat and straight surfaces than on gravel, grass or dirt. You have to wear a helmet when riding a hoverboard to avoid injuries. And it's not a good idea to travel by hoverboard when it's rainy because it is very dangerous. My mum said she would give me a games console if I pass my exam, so I'm doing my best.
