

Planning and Reviewing Learning

1. Describe why it is important to set targets

You have a two- week holiday from college starting next week.

- 1.2 Can you set three targets for what you would like to achieve in those two weeks?
(To help your English)

1.

2.

3.

Look at your first target. How will you achieve this? List two clear action points and a deadline for these.

As an example, if your target was: to improve my writing

2 action points could be: 1. I will complete a mock writing exam paper

2. I will revise the tenses in English and complete a worksheet

Deadline: 14/04/24

1.3 Complete the table for you

Target	Action point 1	Action point 2	Deadline
1
2
3

1.4 Identify and access sources of support

To achieve your targets, is there any support you need?

For example: I will need to ask my teacher for a mock reading exam and some tense revision worksheets before I finish college for the holiday on Wednesday

What support will you need? Think about what you need, who from, and when by?

What do you need?	Who from?	When by?
E.g. Mock reading exam	E.g. My teacher	E.g. 27/03/24

1.5 Make arrangements for reviewing progress

When and how will you review your targets?

--

2.2 describe different ways of learning, and how you learn best.

Using google, research the four main learning styles

Write their names in the boxes below and describe what they are/mean

Which learning style do you prefer, and why?

--