It was the first eastern European city that _____ me ____ my _____I [_____] has a humble vibe about it that I could feel from the minute I arrived. The historic architecture is really beautiful, especially along the riverfront. One of the reasons I enjoyed [_____] so much was the _____ commitment to local makers and independent boutique owners in every neighbourhood around the city. In my opinion, shopping in [_____] is cool, because it offers so many independent boutiques, vintage collections, and local brands. It feels _____ & trendy because there are so many _____ brands that I would not have learned about otherwise. Another highlight of my travel was visiting a few of the city's famed thermal baths. A stop at one of 9 thermal baths in Budapest is an absolute must-do activity. They don't call it the City of Spas for no reason!
