

relevant in jeopardy application determined rewarding gain progress applied for dedicated

Once upon a time, in a bustling city, Sarah found herself at a crossroads in her career. She was _____ to _____ new skills and advance professionally, but her current job was stagnant, and her ambitions seemed to be _____.

Feeling the need to _____, Sarah decided to take on more responsibility and _____ a position at a prestigious accounting firm. The role was _____ to her skills and offered the potential for _____ challenges.

After submitting her _____ form, Sarah received an invitation for an interview. Excited yet nervous, she _____ herself to preparing diligently, knowing that this opportunity could shift the trajectory of her career.